What Industry Leaders Say

Dr. Seyed Ahmadreza Mirmotalebi - Rooyan Darou Pharmaceutical Company

The International Livestock, Poultry, and Related Industries Exhibition has consistently been one of the country's most important specialized events in the field of animal health and related industries. Fortunately, the 1404 exhibition, through well-organized planning, professional management, and the broad participation of industry professionals, was held in a dynamic and constructive environment, providing a valuable opportunity for the exchange of knowledge, the development of specialized collaborations, and the introduction of the capabilities of Iran's veterinary industry.

Rooyan Darou Pharmaceutical Company, relying on its expertise, experience, and skilled human resources, remains committed to delivering innovative solutions and producing high-quality products. The company believes it can play an effective role in improving the health of livestock and poultry across the country and hopes that, through cooperation and solidarity among all stakeholders in the industry, the path toward growth and progress will become smoother than ever before.

Dr. Ali Eshaghi - Institute for Vaccine Research and Razi Serum Production

This international exhibition is a valuable opportunity to showcase industrial capabilities and achievements, facilitate knowledge exchange and experience sharing, and strengthen interactions in this field. The presence of scientific centers, knowledge-based companies, manufacturers, and investors alongside one another will pave the way for more effective collaborations and the development of cutting-edge technologies. Such events play a significant role in promoting public health, increasing productivity, and enhancing the country's food security.

Matosian - Poultry Equipment Manufacturing Industries

Participation in the Tehran International Exhibition provided an excellent platform to showcase our capabilities, expand business collaborations, and become acquainted with the latest achievements and developments in the poultry industry.

We evaluated this event very positively in terms of organization, execution, and the opportunities it created for establishing connections with industry professionals.

We sincerely appreciate the valuable efforts of Milad Mantegh Shargh Company and all its staff, whose careful planning and effective management made the successful organization of this event possible. We extend our heartfelt gratitude and appreciation to them.

Engineer Arash Montaser, CEO of Sepid Makian Company

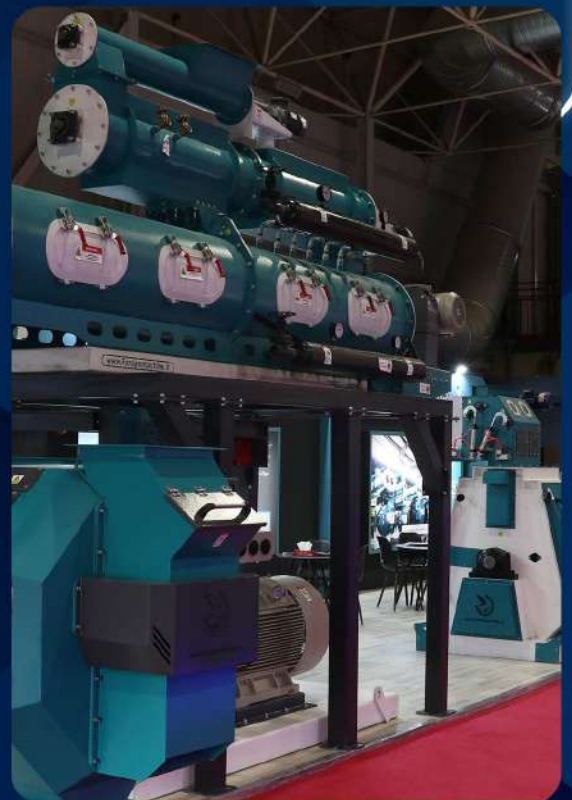

As a leading integrated producer and distributor of chicken and turkey products, Sepid Makian views its participation in the 1404 Livestock, Poultry, and Related Industries Exhibition as a constructive opportunity to exchange expertise and familiarize the audience with the company's modern technologies and agricultural products. Given the enthusiastic response from visitors and the active engagement of industry stakeholders—reflecting the vital role such events play in the growth and advancement of the livestock and poultry sector—Sepid Makian regards its participation as a successful and impactful experience, reinforcing its ongoing commitment to innovation, quality enhancement, and the creation of sustainable value for customers and the industry.
